1001Web and 1001TV imagined what the THE WALKING DEAD upcoming season premiere might be like through a homemade teaser.

1001Web and 1001TV's team decided to come up to The Walking Dead fans long-drawn-out expectations through a short directed in order to tease what the five first minutes of Robert Kirkman's season 7 premiere show might be.

Season 6 finale's ending on a cliffhanger did get the fans down, and we still don't know who is the victim of big bad Negan's barbed-wire bat, Lucille. A few net surfers brought many assumptions up, but nothing has been given away / but everything has been kept under wraps and we'll have to wait for season 7 premiere's release date this fall, on Sunday October 9th, to find out who Negan bludgeoned to death.

1001Web and 1001TV's founder, Nicolas LEFEVRE, being a huge fan of the show, decided to come up with his own teaser of season 7 premiere.

"The Dead are Walking" short : <https://youtu.be/-3jgXjHfFEU>

This teaser untitled « THE DEAD ARE WALKING, What if... ? » is the group's first original work, which was filmed in the language of Shakespeare, with French subtitles added, and shot in Reunion Island.
